BIOGRAPHY

A USAToday and Wall Street Journal bestseller, Robin Covington loves to explore the theme of fooling around and falling in love in her books. Her stories burn up the sheets...one page at a time. A biracial author of Native American descent, Robin proudly writes diverse romance where everyone gets their happily ever after.

A 2016 RITA® Award finalist, Robin's books have won the National Reader's Choice and Golden Leaf Awards and finished in the Romantic Times Reviewer's Choice, the Holt Medallion Awards, and the Book Seller's Best.

She is an unapologetic Indiginerd and comic book geek. She hoards red nail polish and stalks Chris Evans. She is thoroughly obsessed with her Corgi, Dixie Joan Wilder (Yes - THE Joan Wilder)

Robin is represented by Nalini Akolekar at Spencerhill Associates
